Why Resume Optimization Matters

The more effectively you can tailor your resume for a specific job, the better your chances are. Generic resumes are a dime a dozen and unlikely to do well in an applicant tracking system (also known as an ATS). Using Jobscan, you can easily optimize your resume against any job description and make yourself a top candidate.

Jobscan Introduction

- Gives job seekers an instant analysis of how well their resume is tailored for a particular job and how it can be even better optimized for an ATS.
- Visit Jobscan and either paste in the text of your resume or upload a Word or PDF file, then paste the text of the job posting you're interested in.

CREATE NEW SCAN

Paste the text of your resume into the first box. Then, paste the text of the job description into the second box. Don't have a resume and job description on hand?

Match Rate

The resume match rate is a score (0% to 100%) based on how well your resume matches up with the job description you selected. Jobscan recommends aiming for a match rate of 60% for entry-level professionals and 80% for experienced professionals. This is a goal, so don't get discouraged if you can't make it past 70%.

Match Rate Priorities

Hard Skills
Education Level
Job Title
Soft Skills
Other Keywords

 focus your efforts on hard skills, especially the hard skills that occur frequently, as those have a bigger impact on your match rate.*

ATS Findings

The first section of the Resume Match Report shows tips and findings most important to ATS. This includes an overview of your missing skills and keywords and whether you have a matching job title and degree. Addressing any red exes in this section will make the biggest contribution to your match rate.
